

SECURITY FRAMEWORK FOR SUPPORTING KERNEL-BASED HYPERVISORS WITHIN A COMPUTING SYSTEM

Abstract of the Disclosure

An inventive security framework for supporting kernel-based hypervisors within a computer system. The security framework includes a security master, one or more security modules and a security manager, wherein the security master and security modules execute in kernel space.